"Old Tack" Makes First Visit to Site; Meeting In Amarillo Saturday on Conservation

Interest in the proposed dam on the Tierra Blanca increased this week when Congressman Marvin Jones spent nearly two hours at the site south of Umparger on Saturday, and expressed amazement at the magnitude of the proposition. He believed that the project was entirely feasible, and will give every possible aid to the project. Accompanying Mr. Jones to the dam site were Ed Hardin, A. A. Meredith, both of Amarillo, W. A. Warren, G. B. Heath and Patsy Britain. Mr. Britain took several photographs of the site which will be forwarded to Mr. Jones for use in Washington.

On Monday the Commissioners Court agreed to sink four test holes at the proposed dam site in order to get a log of the structure. Chas. Steen will superintend this work, and Engineer E. H. Gohmert will take the daily logs of the test holes.

On Tuesday Gene Howe, known as Old Tack, John McCarty, and Carl Hinton visited the site of the proposed dam. Mr. Howe is greatly interested in the conservation of water in this section. He expressed great surprise at the size of the project and will co-operate in every way possible to make the dam a reality.

An all-Panhandle meeting will be held in Amarillo Saturday morning at 10:00 o'clock at which time an organization will be formed to present to congress the various conservation projects of the Panhandle.

The Commissioners Court appointed the following from the four precincts to represent this county at this meeting: No. 1, W. A. Warren, Clyde Warwick, Judge Burney Slack, Dr. C. E. Donnell, G. B. Heath, T. V. Slack.

No. 2, Barney Conner, Irvin Doss, Louis Wieck, Carl Puqua, Don Fleming, Clarence Beckman.

No. 3, D. S. Hill, Ross Craig, Otto Rahlfs, C. R. Strong, Ed Kuehn, Emil Schaeffer, J. W. Wesley.

No. 4, C. E. Collins, Frank Gruener, Dave Dannier, Glen Costley, C. B. Irvin, W. E. Bennett.

It is reported that large delegations will go from every county in the Panhandle to the meeting Saturday morning in Amarillo as the need of water conservation is being felt over the Panhandle territory.

Three things will be stressed in this meeting: Flood control, water conservation on the Plains, and recreational necessity.

Excavation On Viaduct Started; Streets Improved

Work was started on the viaduct east of the Santa Fe depot Monday.

Cooke & Braden has the contract for the excavation, which is being done with the steam shovel.

The caliche from the old roadbed is being hauled to the streets of Canyon, and several blocks are being hard surfaced with this material.

Miss Mabel Gass of Hereford visited Sunday in the home of her sister, Mrs. N. E. McIntire.

Mr. Mrs. J. C. Pipkin Married 67 Years

Children Make Surprise of Marriage Date of Their Parents With a Visit Here Yesterday

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pipkin celebrated their 67th wedding anniversary yesterday. Their children paid them a surprise visit and the family enjoyed the day in a family reunion. Mr. Pipkin reached the age of 88 years on November 30, and Mrs. Pipkin will be 85 years of age next March. Both are enjoying very good health, although they are seldom able to leave their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Pipkin were married at Elma, 12 miles south of Tyler on Dec. 16, 1869. Mrs. Pipkin was born in Smith county, and Mr. Pipkin had moved there from Georgia following the Civil War. He had served in the Confederate Army, enlisting from Hawkinsville, Georgia.

Mr. Pipkin engaged in farming and ginning in East Texas, but moved to Plainview in 1890 where he engaged in mercantile business and in stock raising.

The family moved to Canyon in 1900 and Mr. Pipkin was engaged in business until 1920 when he retired.

Five children of the couple were here yesterday to enjoy the occasion with their parents: Mrs. C. A. Workman of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Pipkin of Stephenville; Mr. and Mrs. Grady Pipkin of Eastland; Mr. and Mrs. Jess Pipkin of Breckenridge; Mrs. Tom Wilson, who is living with her parents. One son, Jack Pipkin, lives in California, and was unable to be here. Two sons of the couple are dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Pipkin have been among the prominent pioneers of West Texas during the 46 years in which they have lived on the Plains. They are held in the highest esteem of all with whom they came in contact, and have enjoyed the friendship and confidence of all citizens.

Many friends and neighbors called yesterday to express their appreciation for the life and work of this fine couple and to wish for them many more years of happiness.

John W. Bond Died Friday at Home in Canyon

John William Bond, 73, died Friday night at his home in this city. The funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Methodist Church in Hedley, conducted by Rev. J. O. Quattlebaum. Interment followed in the Hedley cemetery under the direction of the Griggs-Thompson Funeral Home. The Masonic Lodge of Hedley was in charge of the services conducted at the grave.

The Bond family has lived in Canyon for the past nine years, moving here from Hedley. Mr. Bond and son, Sam, were owners of the College Oasis in the east part of Canyon. Mr. Bond has been a member of the Methodist Church for many years.

Surviving are the wife, Mrs. Florence Bond; two sons, E. L. and Sam Bond, both of Canyon; and two daughters, Miss Ethel Bond and Mrs. Bertha Latimer, both of Canyon.

Lubbock Man Out Under Bond When Nabbed With Booze

Bill Fogle of Lubbock was arrested on the highway Friday by Sheriff Bob Barnett and Deputy Cantrell. He was charged with the illegal possession and illegal transportation of liquor. He made bond of $500 Saturday and will await the action of the grand jury.

Sheriff Barnett has in his custody seven cases of liquor which were taken, together with the car in which Fogle was transporting the liquor.

Buffaloes Will Warm Up Team In Basketball

First Games of Season Tonight and Friday Night Played at Bur- ton Gym

Coach Al Baggett's 1936-37 basketball team will launch their initial whirl of the year when Elwood Romney brings his array of fireball artists from the Colorado School of Mines of Golden, Colo., to Burton Gymnasium, Thursday and Friday for a two-game series.

Little information concerning the Ore Diggers' strength is available at this writing. Coach Romney comes from a family lineage of celebrated cage instructors, whose reputation is widely known in the Rocky Mountain region. The game will be the opener for both clubs.

Such familiar faces as Captain Lawrence Clark of Turkey, and Craig Walling of Farwell at guards, Joe Hays of Allison and Conway Butler of Turkey at forward and Raymond Shackelford of Childress will probably find a place on the starting five.

Sophomore Lother Stephenson, six foot six inch forward of Rails, has been pushing the regulars for a slot. Stephenson has been handicapped by a back injury, but should be in fine fettle for Thursday's fray.

The Buffs will get another test of their strength at the Oklahoma City Intercollegiate Invitation tournament, Dec. 30-31, Jan. 1-2. The twelve senior colleges of Oklahoma will be present, and the Buffs are one of the four out-of-state teams that have been invited.

Santa Will Have Gifts
For Children in Canyon Saturday and Tuesday

Canyon business houses have enjoyed good Christmas trade during the past week as reported yesterday by the various merchants.

It is expected that Christmas shopping will continue brisk until Christmas eve. Most of the stores are planning to stay open during the evening hours next week in order to accommodate those who cannot do their buying during the day.

The trade trips were made Friday by large numbers of business men and women who accompanied the band and the drum corps on the visit to various parts of the county. Both excursion parties reported excellent reception during the day by the people visited in the trade territory, and during the past week scores of farmers have repaid these visits by coming to Canyon.

W. A. Warren, president of the Chamber of Commerce, states that $4250 in cash will be distributed next Saturday at 3:00 o'clock at the bandstand to the customers of the business houses of Canyon. This will be the final cash distribution. (Continued on last page)

Milk Supply of County Is Now Coming From Cows Known to Be En- tirely Free of TB

Randall county cattle are entirely free of tuberculosis, according to the test which was completed this week under the federal accredited area plan. The test of 3,000 head of cattle during the past two weeks was made by veterinarians furnished by the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, and not a single case of tuberculosis was found in the county.

The county will receive a certificate from B. A. I. headquarters at Fort Worth which will certify Randall county as a tuberculosis free area.

This 100% clean test is the result of testing which was started in the county in 1927 by the department of Public Health in Amarillo, by whose order all dairies selling milk in the city were required to test their cows annually. The annual test was sponsored in 1928 by the Randall County Dairymen's association and has been pushed by this organization, assisted by County Agent W. H. Upchurch.

When the testing was first started it was found that tuberculosis in dairy cows had been imported in cows shipped here from the north and east to such an extent that more than one cow in twenty was infected. The annual testing sponsored by the Dairymen's Association has shown a gradual disappearance of the disease until less than 1% was found in 1934 when the entire county was tested under a CWA project. This percentage of infection was further reduced in 1935 when the dairy cattle were again tested by the Dairymen's Association.

The 100% elimination of the disease as shown by the present check test is not an accident but rather the result of persistent effort on the part of the health authorities of Canyon and Amarillo and the co-operation of the Dairymen's Association assisted by the County Agent. Every citizen of Randall county should be justly proud of this record. Those who live in an area where good health is the rule are prone to forget some of the many advantages enjoyed. It is wondered how many college towns in the entire United States can boast of as good health advantages. Local authorities hoped that everyone will co-operate in the efforts being made, at least to the extent of not shipping in dairy cattle from other sections without a tuberculosis test.

AND SO HE QUIT

King Edward took the advice of his many American admirers and chucked the throne last Thursday. His brother, the Duke of York, has succeeded, and will be known as King George VI.

In a dramatic short talk over a world-wide broadcast Friday afternoon, the retiring King told the world that it was because of his love for Mrs. Simpson, and the fact that she could not become Queen, caused him to abdicate the throne. As is the case with all the King's utterances, this speech was written by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin, and had not Edward read the speech as prepared for him by the minister, the broadcast would have been chopped off.

The News has been greatly interested in the comments of the abdication, both in the press and upon the streets. In most instances the women are condemning Mrs. Simpson for her part, and she is charged with the responsibility for the King quitting. It will not be many months until the world shall witness whether or not this was a real love affair, or whether Mrs. Simpson was used as a convenient vehicle for Edward to quit. The wife of a self-exiled king is not such a glamorous personage, although it is well recognized that Edward will continue to be first page stuff for many months to come, just as he has for many years past. He has caught the appeal of the public and will not soon be relegated to the unknown.

If Mrs. Simpson was a gold-digger she will possibly chuck the late lamented king—or will the matter of just another marriage and divorce really count with her? So far as The News is concerned, we are firmly convinced that the Simpson affair was more or less a convenient measure by which Edward quit the throne. He is a positive, aggressive person, who has had his own way and when he ascended to the throne was pretty much impressed with the importance of his office. But kings are naught in the sight of prime ministers. It is more than likely that the attractive personality of Edward, his real human heart and feeling for his subjects, and his determination to make the office of king worth something that caused the well known disagreement with the prime minister. It matters not who happened to be prime minister, the result would probably have been the same.

But the king quit. He is the first man to admit that his personal feelings were of more importance than to carry the title of king.

The prime ministers have been shopping all over Europe for a wife for Edward for the past 20 years. They could not make him marry into the royal families. When he found some one whom he wanted to marry, she turned out to be an American with a couple of living husbands. It was too much for English tradition, so the inevitable results.

The funny thing about those English people is the fact they do not get hot and bothered about a change in kings. The King has abdicated; but long live the King—a new one takes the affection of the people on the fly. The prime minister has had his say; the constitution has been saved; the people are happy; a great crisis has passed; Davy and Wally may get married, or quit, or do as they please—and the old world will move on just as though nothing had happened.

Fortunately for the United States all of this happened when President Roosevelt was taking a leisurely jaunt home from South America where he made a magnetic appeal to that continent, or else the people would have lost the great importance of his visit.

Vice President John Garner was called to Washington by President Roosevelt much earlier than usual. Garner is keeping his eye on national affairs while the President is away, but his big job is to whip administration forces into line ready to pass the President's legislation in January. Various predictions are being made as to how hard it is going to be for the President to keep the big Democratic majority in line, but chances are that both Roosevelt and Garner will be doing battle against the reactionaries to keep the party forces in tact. After all, 1938 and 1940 are not far off, and congressmen naturally like to be in favor with the administration.

Just drive out into the country and see how the wheat is growing following the rain of last week. The green fields are a wonderful sight. Many farmers believe that the prospect for wheat is the best in several years. This is not uniformly true, as many places in the Panhandle had a poor start early in the fall. Reports from the "dust bowl" north of Texas are that little moisture has been received, and potentially conditions are worse this winter than they have ever been. This indicates more dust in the spring, a sample of which we had a few weeks ago. But the Panhandle as a whole seems to be pretty well fortified against damaging erosion if the wind is only moderate.

Large numbers of Canyon business and professional men and women made trips into the country last week, visiting the schools and inviting the people to Canyon. Trips like this should be made more frequently. Canyon has many advantages of which the people may boast a little. Right now at Christmas time is when all persons are interested in doing some shopping. Why not do it in Canyon? There is certainly no better place in which to trade.

Both France and England have opened the way for discussion of the war debts. Do they mean to pay the United States, or is this just an opening wedge for another discussion of the war debts at which time they will chisel some more on the debt? There are mil-

Christmas Prophecy

LONG, long ago the Magi came with trophies To pay their homage to an infant King.

The vanished years saw shepherds in Judea

Find magic light, and pause, remembering

That there would be a sign that early morning

When One would come with balm for weary scars,

A donor of new hope, gay love, warm shelter,

Who came to earth attuned to Christmas stars.

THE prophecy of peace has never vanished;

It sings its way through blur of martial drums.

Good will to men is more than myth or fancy:

There are so many kindly ways it comes!

Where stockings hang, gift-filled, and dreams are mended,

Where fires, long dull, glow high and true again,

Because we shared, an echo finds fulfillment:

"Peace on earth, good will once more to men!"

lions of dollars of foreign money invested in American stocks. If all these securities were thrown on the market, there would be a crash. Will England and France threaten to do this unless Uncle Sam gets big hearted again? International finances certainly make one dizzy when the far-reaching results are considered, and how the old nations have slicked the United States on these trades.

Canyon citizens had the pleasure of entertaining a large group of legislators last week who were greatly impressed with improvements which were being made on the campus and in Canyon. This was the largest group of legislators that has visited Canyon for a number of years. The trip was purely educational, and those who were favored by getting to make the trip were highly impressed with what they saw.

Pity the poor newspaper man. Print paper is going up, up, up, and can hardly be secured at any price. A Panhandle publisher is trying to get a bid on 50 tons, but no wholesale house can find a paper mill which is interested in making a contract for 1937. All kinds of paper is rocketing in price as the supply of pulp over the world runs low.

Merchants of Canyon say to the people of this trade territory: Do your Christmas shopping in Canyon. That is good advice. It is good for the people of Canyon to accept. Before you spend your money elsewhere, just visit the stores of Canyon and see what wonderful bargains you may secure right here in Canyon.

Romance That Shook an Empire!

crip shot the first two points made; then the Dimmitt sextet took their turn and evened the score, and so on until the second half of the game, when the Eag-lettes slackened; and Dimmitt led the game when the final whistle blew, 39 to 21.The girls did not seem the team they were in the game they played against Hartley the week before.
Collins made 8 points for the Eag-lettes, to make the most goals for the home team. Merritt for Dimmitt took scoring honors of the game with 17 points, most of these being made with a hoop shot she continued to find the goal with.The Dimmitt girls traveled to the final game, where they were defeated by the Hereford six.
The Eaglettes played a game with Hart, at Hart, beating them 31 to 14. Hart had been defeated at the Dimmitt tournament by Vega. Both teams were out of the tournament.Those seeing service during the two games were Mary Collins, Edrie McNeil, Renna Beth Bellah, Wanda Brock, Mavis Harden and Natalie Fletcher. Those substituting were Billy Greenfield, Carolyn Mayfield, Dell Bagley, and Sunshine Harden.Faculty Study Club

ance, Mr. John B. Pope brought out the fact that it was one of the most important problems facing the schools today. Miss Fannie Sue Brasuel discussed the same topic as related to home economics. The meeting ended with a discussion of current magazine articles on guidance.SPANISH PROGRAM GIVEN

Ideas For Features"What can I write a feature on?" is my usual question to the journalism students on the day that the Eagle's Tale assignment sheet comes out.I've just about run out of ideas, and I think the other members of the class have, too. I've written so many. Doesn't anybody have any ideas on a subject that I could write on? Please, help a lady in distress."Maybe," suggests Mavis, "you could write about people."Yeah! People are crazy, and so are features, sometimes; but I can't think of any person crazy enough to write on; so I let it drop.
(It's the gypsy in me!)"Well, write on hobbies," says some other nitwit. Well, if there haven't been at least one thousand features on hobbies, I'll eat my hat."Well, write on some incident that happened on a basketball trip." But how am I going to write on basketball trips when I don't even get to go on them?Now, isn't this just too ducky?
I can't even think of a feature and I've written nine of them already—say, wait a minute, what have I done? Why—why, I've written a feature! My, what a relief!English Classes the football trophy for being the most valuable gridster on the Canyon High School football team of 1936.The valuable prize was given by J. W. Kleinschmidt in assembly Wednesday. It was a silver statue of a football player in complete uniform."I can't express my thanks for such a great prize," said Drummond as he received the trophy.The position that Drummond played was one of the hardest and most responsible on the team. "He is one of the best little quarterbacks that I've ever seen on a high school team, and he ran plays without a flaw," said Coach Emil Hutto, as he expressed his opinion of Drummond's playing."The team is grateful for having such a backer as Mr. Kleinschmidt and we surely do appreciate his cooperation and the gift that he has given," said the coach as he ended his speech.Another honor was bestowed by Coach Hutto when the football boys voted overwhelmingly to give Captain Jack Middleton the gold football presented by Coaches Hutto and Brown. This was not given in assembly, as it had not arrived yet, but it will be formally presented soon.Second Grade

This notice was on the bulletin board last week. An ardent member started spreading the news, and at the designated time there were five members present. They waited an hour or so for the rest to appear, but nobody else showed up."Where is everybody?" "Why isn't someone up here?" "Doesn't anyone else know about it?"These were among the various and sundry questions those present asked themselves and each other.Finally, they realized that the notice was posted for the meeting of the week before, and that there wasn't going to be any meeting at all.Imagine the humiliation and anger of that quintet of poor, disappointed members.SCHRAMMS GIVE READER'S

Home Ec. Class
Gives DinnerA guest dinner was given last Thursday evening by the second year home economics class after a study of a serving unit. They had studied a unit on guest meals, family meals, and their service. Meal planning had been studied also.Each girl of the class brought a guest. Refreshments of steak and gravy, creamed potatoes, peas, cranberry relish, fruit jello salad, rolls, butter, cherry pie with whipped cream, and coffee were served to the following: Mr. R. G. Stephenson, Mr. Milton Kiker, Mr. W. H.
Stroud, Mr. T. W. Wirt, Mr. T. V.
Slack, Mr. John B. Pope, Mr. Gerald Brown, Mr. C. R. Burrow, Mr.

ris.The Band Parents' Association met last Monday evening in the high school auditorium. Following the business session, the band entertained the parents with a program of Christmas music.A quartet composed of Grant Sharman, Anna Ruth Schmitz, Hud Pritchard, and Martha Frances Campbell entertained with a number of Christmas carols.

Now make a wise crack, and Guess who he is."When A Lady Meets A Gent" What Should He DoNow, what do you think girls like and dislike most in boys, or women like and dislike most in men?First of all, girls like boys that are truly respectful to the fairer sex in general. It has been said that the days of chivalry and courtesy are gone forever, but there's nothing women like better in men than those traits of dear old Sir Walter Raleigh. Here is just a hint from one who has been associated with a few girls: if you are on your first date with the girl you have pined to go with for weeks, just make her feel like Queen Elizabeth did when Sir Walter Raleigh laid his velvet cloak down for her to walk on. I mean just this: always remember ladies first, and if you're enjoying a dance, say, "May I dance with you?" and don't just walk over and "yank" a girl to her feet and start shuffling around. Remember to say "Thanks" when the music stops, and do not ever forget and leave a girl standing in the middle of the dance floor. In other words, treat her as valuable property, even if she is just a loan, in which case you will have to be more careful than ever.Of course you know that how you treat your heart-throb is not just the thing; treat all girls with good intentions.You may be courteous, and at the same time be modern; girls like the boys who do not alwaysagree to everything they say. Be different, be yourself, and you may even be sarcastic at times. Girls don't like to get the best of boys in a word combat; but with their tongues doing setting-up exercises twelve and sometimes more times a day, they are likely to if you are not careful. But girls have a slight weakness for boys who can beat them at their own game, whether the combat is an argument, a sarcastic bout, a goodbye "bust-up," stringing lines, or simply exchanging wise cracks.Of course it is needless to say that girls may not mind a few slang expressions, but they do not care for strong by-words; so just keep in practice by not using them at all.Then be neat when you go to call on a girl; be sure your shoes are polished, your hair combed, and your teeth brushed. Other "don'ts" are not to keep your chewing gum quiet if you have any, and by all means do not keep a girl waiting. Be on time, or it is likely to be your last time.Last, but not least, come clothes.
Your latest passion won't care the flip of a coin for you if you arrive to take her to a formal dance in a suede jacket, and a pair of corduroy trousers. Use your dress manners; and by the way, do not forget your dressy manners at any and all times.Now, what do you think girls like in boys, or women like in men?Basketball Teams Attend Friona
TournamentBoth the Eagles and Eaglettes basketball teams are going to the Friona tournament tomorrow.It is not known yet how they will play, or when, but Friendship, Bovina, Hereford, Dimmitt, and Friona will be among the teams present to compete with the C. H.
S. cagers.After the disappointing results of the Dimmitt games, the quintet and sextet both will be out for a big score, and they intend to be on the big end of it.The probable starting line-up for the boys is C. L. Drummond and James Pope, guards; Ray Ford Rusk, center; and Melvin Callihan and Eston Breitling, forwards.
Other boys making the trip will be Jack Middleton, D. A. Butler, John B. Pope, and Forest Hill.The probable starting line-up for the girls is Mavis Harden, Wanda Brock, and Natalie Fletcher, guards; Mary Collins, Kate Donnell, and Renna Beth Bellah, forwards. Other girls making the trip will be Billy Greenfield, Carolyn Mayfield, Dell Bagley, Mary Jo Arent, Edrie McNeil, and Anna Ruth Schmitz.Journalists Visit News OfficeThe journalism class visited the Canyon News office last Thursday afternoon. Mr. Warwick and his assistants showed the class how different types of machines develop the paper. The students watched The Canyon News being printed and folded. One of the outstanding things to the class was the linotype, which Mr. Usery explained. Mr. Warwick explained the various kinds of type for hand-set jobs, the paper cutter, the stitcher, the proof press, and something of how the paper is made up for printing.The class plans to go to Amarillo this afternoon, where they will visit the Globe-News and Russell's Stationery Co.Hurrah for Wanda Brock! She was the only one to come back from Dimmitt with any honors.
She made the all-tournament team picked, with only one game played.
So you see she had to be good to be picked as she was.I heard some of the Eagles say that if Coach Morris had not had to go to Hereford, the Eagles would have won the game from Dimmitt.
It seems the boys weren't in the mood to play basketball. They were already suited up before Mr.
Brown got back to Dimmitt from Hart, and it looked as if they were to play without a coach.Eston Breitling sort of showed his stuff against Vega and Dimmitt. High-point man in both games, he showed promise of being a basket-bitter par excellence.The football boys feasted off the Rotary Club last Tuesday, and they all looked satisfied after the meal. They must have had plenty to eat. Not many guests to dinners and banquets ever get all they want, but the expression on the faces of those football players showed that they had all they could handle.CHRISTMAS OBSERVED BY CHILD STUDY CLUBThe Christmas theme was observed in the regular monthly meeting last Thursday afternoon of the Child Study Club. The meeting was held at 3 o'clock in the music room of the elementary school building.After the entire group had sung Christmas carols, Mr. H. G. Moore told a Christmas story. Mrs. Harry Brown talked on "The Best Gift a Mother Can Give Her Child," and the Mother Singers sang "Cradle Song," by Brahms, and a French noel.Mrs. Ray Campbell is program chairman for the club.

A FEW CENTS WILL HELP

Have you seen the little red and white Christmas seals fluttering around, with a smiling Santa and a red cross on them? How many of us understand the full significance of them? How many know when and how the Christmas tuberculosis seals became known?This seal was originated in 1903; and from that day to this, each year Christmas seals are sold in more than 40 countries to help prevent tuberculosis. One day in a small Danish town, while sorting mail, Mr. Holbrell got his idea.
He saw letters of cheery greetings going to friends and relatives, and he wondered why these letters did not carry messages of health that would bring in funds with which to fight disease. The first year the seals were sold, more than six million were sold to Danes. His idea was successful.The first tuberculosis germs were discovered in 1681, but the people thought them to be lymphatic glands. Down through the years men experimented, until, in 1865, tuberculosis was proven contagious.
Many millions of people die of this disease each year.With the money that is collected from the Christmas seal, hospitals and sanitariums are built and nurses and doctors are paid with this money to run them.This little seal does not change much in size or shape. But if we could compare its size with the help it has given, there would be no size at all. So when you have an extra nickel or so invest it in these little seals.Remember that health is one of the most valuable possessions man has. Take care of your own health, but also remember those already sick and help to make them well by buying these little white and red Christmas seals. Help prevent tuberculosis, the Public Enemy No. 1 of the world.

Dr. Wiley Sends Announcements To English Assn.

Dr. Margaret Lee Wiley, who is secretary of one of the research groups of the Modern Language Association of America, recently sent out announcements to several hundred professors and scholars who are working in the fields of English and modern languages telling them of the meeting of their section of the Association at Richmond, Va., Dec. 31.

These announcements went not only to many points in the United States, but to all parts of the world ranging from Canada to South Africa.

The group devotes itself this year to a critical study of Romanticism. Dr. Wiley will attend the Association meeting and will read a paper before the section devoted to a study of the late 18th century.

Edward's Abdication Ushers Quiet George Into Kingship

Suddenly made ruler of the greatest of world empires Britain's new king personifies the traditional family man of British life. Here is a recent picture of the new monarch with his wife and two daughters. Princess Elizabeth, left, now heir presumptive to the throne, and Margaret Rose.

ABDICATION of the British throne by Edward VIII for the love of the American divorcee, Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson, brings to the rulership a new king, George VI, strikingly reminiscent of the late George V.

For Albert Frederick Arthur George, former Duke of York, is practically the antithesis of his older brother. While Edward chose globe trotting, Albert spent his youth in the navy, married, and has two charming daughters.

Edward loved sports, dancing, and the gay side of life. The new monarch has preferred the seclusion of his study. Edward was essentially a cosmopolite. Albert's interests have been more confined. He has taken an especial interest in industrial matters.

The second son and second child of the late King George V and Queen Mary, Albert was born Dec. 14, 1895, at York Cottage, Sandringham. He and the Prince of Wales, only a year and a half older, were playmates, had the same tutors. Later the two went through military work together.

At the age of 14 Albert entered the Royal Naval college at his father's behest. A year later he was sent on an extensive cruise. He came back a midshipman. And in those days he fared share and share alike with his mates.

Came the great war and Albert was serving as a young officer on a war vessel. Eventually he battled with his men in one of the greatest and fiercest of all the war's naval engagements—the battle of Jutland. He emerged a hero.

Then illness struck him. Upon recovery it was thought best that he forsake the sea. That was in 1917. So the young prince became an air pilot, serving in France. Since the war he has maintained a constant interest in aviation and naval matters. Like Edward, in one respect, Albert has also exhibited keen interest in the welfare problems of the working classes.

In 1923 Prince Albert wed Lady Elizabeth Bowes-Lyon, a commoner in the parlance of royalty, and the marriage won the blessings of the king and queen. There is a story that Albert popped the question several times before he won his bride. Quiet and retiring by nature, the young prince chose an exclusive country home.

In April, 1926, a daughter was born to the Duke and Duchess of York—Princess Elizabeth Mary—who may some day become queen. She is heir presumptive. In 1930 a second daughter was born to the royal couple.

MEANWHILE, the duke assumed more and more tasks, representing the king on many missions. Gradually he overcame a discouraging personal handicap, stuttering. Even today, however, he does not enjoy the panoply of public appearances.

When Edward ascended the throne, new honors came to Albert, presumably to accentuate his position as heir presumptive. One of King Edward's first acts was to promote the duke to high posts in the British army, navy and air forces. Albert is also a member of all of the great British orders of chivalry.

The new ruler bears striking resemblance to his father.
